Roger’s dad was a fisherman, and his mother died when he was very young. Even being directly affected, Roger coped pretty well because of the love and support of his dad until something terrible happened. While at sea, his dad had to climb to the top of the mast. He fell into the water and was never found. At the age of 14, Roger became an orphan with no one to care for him. He became partially homeless, stealing raw vegetables from people’s gardens to fill his empty stomach. He was so poor that he had to wear all three pairs of his pants, one on top of the other, to cover himself during winter. To escape this harsh reality, he started drinking alcohol, and rapidly he became a heavy drinker. But one day, Roger heard about the gospel and accepted Jesus as his Savior. The mightier power of the universe forgave his sins and was able to provide for him. This transformed his life. He was healed of painful emotions; he quit drinking alcohol, settled in a job, ran his own business, grew a happy family, owned a house, sent his kids to school, and lived with a life’s purpose of introducing others to His Savior.
