The germination of the seed represents the beginning of spiritual life, and the development of the plant is a figure of God…The germination of the seed represents the beginning of spiritual life, and the development of the plant is a figure of God…There is life in the seed, there is power in the soil; but unless the seed is planted in the ground, it will profit nothing; and if it does not die, it will not bear fruit.