Kezia lived in Lusaka, Zambia. One day, a family friend visited from overseas. After exploring the city, he brought back a few treats for her. Not accustomed to the local currency, the visitor also gave her a small bill. Kezia excitedly took her gifts but didn't check the bill closely.

Later, she realized that the bill was too small to buy anything meaningful. Disappointed, she returned to the visitor and the father, exclaiming, much to her father's embarrassment, "Uncle, this can't buy anything!"

In the book of Malachi, God asks, "when you offer the blind as a sacrifice, is it not evil? And when you offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? Offer it then to your governor! Would he be pleased with you? Would he accept you favorably?" says the Lord of hosts."
-Malachi 1:8
