The man you're seeing in the middle of the flood is Marcelo. A 43-year-old man is trying to make his way back home, during a severe torrential downpour in the State of São Paulo, Brazil. After crossing the street, He gets trapped with his bike in swirling waters. As horrified onlookers saw his situation, they desperately screamed at him to let the bike go. But he clung to it.

A group of people even risked their lives by forming a human chain to try to save Marcelo, but they could not hold him back.

He tries to stand but the strong current knocks him over and drags him away. Firefighters found his body washed up later the same day.

Marcelo lost far more than the bicycle he was trying to keep!

What is the bicycle in your life? What is it that the Lord is asking you to let go, but you are still clinging to?

A relationship? A job? An addiction?
What is preventing you from surrendering your ways to Jesus? What keeps you from being fully devoted and loyal to Him?

Ellen G. White says that “Jesus does not require of man any real sacrifice; for whatever we are asked to surrender is only that which we are better off without.”—Ellen G. White, Counsels on Stewardship, p. 300).

As you return your tithe and give your promise, ask Jesus to help you embrace what really matters and let go of anything that could jeopardize your salvation.

May we put our desires last and God first.
